Good evening, Mr. Coleman.

Thank you for confirming that you are Ali Akbar's lawyer and that you have served as Mr. Ali Akbar's lawyer on numerous occasions. This is very helpful information. As you well know, as Mr. Akbar's lawyer you can be served with a Summons and a Complaint on behalf of Mr. Ali Akbar. Moreover, by writing your email you have taken actions that are consistent with defending Mr. Akbar in the lawsuit that Plaintiff Terpsehore Maras has filed against Mr. Ali Akbar. Based upon the foregoing, we hereby serve you, as Mr. Ali Akbar's lawyer, with the Summons and the Complaint that Plaintiff filed against Mr. Akbar in the United States District Court, Eastern District of Tennessee, Chattanooga Division. Ms. Maras will forgive all delinquencies for Mr. Akbar. As such, you have twenty-one (21) days to file a responsive pleading. We will file another Proof of Service with the Court so that the court knows that we are making diligent efforts to serve all of our defendants. It was nice to meet you and we look forward to working with you in this matter.

Best regards,

Russell A. Newman, Esq.

Mr. Newman,

There is no matter. He's not been served in any matter.

I have represented Mr. Alexander in numerous matters in the past in which he was properly served.

I reached out to you to identify a deficiency in your understanding of Texas law, your failed attempt at servicing of process, and the consequences of you moving forward with any pleadings involving Mr. Alexander in a case in which he had not been properly served.

Thank you,

Baron

G. Baron Coleman

Russel,

Due to your client's defamatory social media posts mentioning Mr. Alexander, I was forced to go to Pacer to see why your client believes Mr. Alexander has been served in your frivolous lawsuit in the Eastern District of Tennessee.

On your filing as seen on Pacer, the service return says, "Left with an Individual."

That's not service of process in Texas. You're welcome to search Texas law or hire a Texas lawyer to help you understand it, but leaving mail with "an individual" is not service. I also have video of the USPS person absolutely not leaving the package with anyone. Rather, she walked to the door, scanned the document, and returned to her mail truck.

I have attached the video to this email.

Second, Mr. Alexander was not in Texas at the time. I have his itinerary and plane where he left Texas on Feb 10 at 2:30 p.m. and returned on Feb 17 at 6:10 p.m. Simply put, nobody was at the house during that time. I can produce that information under seal to the court, if I have to.

In short, I'm formally requesting that you withdraw the fraudulent filing claiming you perfected service on Mr. Alexander and not file any additional pleadings with respect to Mr. Alexander until such a time he has been served.

If you proceed with any attempt to file anything with respect to Mr. Alexander before he is served, Mr. Alexander will seek unbelievably harsh penalties and sanctions for your misrepresentations to the court that he has been served, including a lawsuit and bar complaint against you personally.

Sincerely,

Baron

G. Baron Coleman
